THE XERISCAPE LOOK

Xeriscape

Xeriscape landscaping, or "xeriscaping," by definition is landscaping designed specifically for areas that are susceptible to drought, or for properties where water conservation is practiced. Derived from the Greek word xeros, meaning "dry," the term means literally "dry landscape." Simply put, xeriscape landscaping is a type of gardening that uses a minimal amount of water to thrive. Typically using lots of stone and rockery with minimal plant materials.
